

Finding a rehabilitation centre after ABI

“I’m going to Tadworth Court Rehabilitation Centre but I’m not going to stay in one of the residential homes. Some people from Tadworth are going to come and help me at home and take me to their school.

When I get there, there will be lots of physiotherapists who can help me get back on my feet in between having school lessons. It’s not quite like the school I am used to going to but everyone who is there will make sure I get to do as much as I can.

I will stay over at the rehabilitation centre sometimes too. They do weekend breaks called ‘respite’ breaks. It will mean that mum doesn’t have to do everything by herself.

I went to have a look around and everyone seemed really friendly. I think I’ll make lots of friends there.”
