Epilepsy after ABI

“The first time I saw Amy have a seizure, I was really scared. I thought she was going to die. She fell on the floor and started to shake a lot. I couldn’t talk to her and she looked really frightened. She seemed to have a fit for a long time.

She finally stopped shaking and woke up again. She was OK, just very tired. I really didn’t understand what was going on until mum explained it to me.

I was worried about having a seizure too but mum explained it was because of Amy’s brain injury.”
