

Further education – sixth form, college and university after ABI

“I decided to go to my local college as I wanted to stay nearer to home. This was a difficult decision to make and I had to think about all sorts of things. Here are some questions I had. You should think about them too and they might help you decide what you want to do:

- What are the advantages of going to a local college?
- What are the advantages of going to a college for disabled young people?
- Which is the best course for me?
- What is the college like?
- How will I get there?
- Do I want to stay with my old friends or make new ones?
- Will I be able to cope with the work?
- Will there be extra support if I need it?
- How will I find my way around?
- What happens if I wake up and feel unwell or have a bad headache?
- Will I be OK living away from home? Will I get homesick?
- Will I get extra time to do coursework and exams?
- What do mum and dad think about me going to college?
- Do I think I can cope or am I just putting pressure on myself?
